Our 2020 Topic:

Let's explore the role of Grace in our Trillium Awakening embodiment process, as well as the question, "Is it possible to meet Grace half-way?"

The mystery of Grace informs us of what we couldn't possibly have conceived of, brings us experiences we couldn't have imagined, opens us where we didn't even know we were closed, and shows us our Divinity in the midst of our human darkness, thereby gifting us with the sublime nectar of who we are when we least expect it.

And at the same time, our intentions, choices, and actions can open the doors for Grace to visit us more consistently.

Inquiries we will explore:

- How has Grace been a part of our awakening process. Can we open to it more?
- Can we trust in Being and simultaneously live the paradox of personal freewill.
- How is the balance of masculine (active) and feminine (receptive) energies important in our Trillium Awakening work? How can they support each other?
- Do specific practices have a place in our work to deepen embodiment, awareness, and relatedness, without fixating the mind on getting something desirable or avoiding something unpleasant? Can we have practices and still leave room for the spontaneity of Grace?
- When is surrender just resignation, or an excuse to keep an old habit of inertia?
- When is surrender a true embrace of an old identity, self-image, defense, or false hope which leads to a fuller expression of our Divine nature?
